re: Rambo Builders, LLC

To whom it may concern,

I have had the pleasure of working with Rambo Builders now for several years and they are by far one of the best General Contractors I have ever worked with. I have worked in the construction industry for twenty years and I have worked with hundreds of General Contractors and Developers. The thing that stands out with me the most is the extensive coordination of their projects. They are very good at looking ahead and scheduling the subcontractors well in advance. This type of planning is very beneficial because it gives us subcontractors time to plan our work and we are better prepared when we man the job. Planning ahead leads to quality work being completed on time. I highly recommend Rambo Builders and their team of Subcontractors to serve any of your construction needs.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or require additional information.

Sincerely,

Shane A. Murphy
